OK, big deal, you're a Christian. God is in your heart now what? Pause. Look at our world as if you never lived. Truly look and see if you individually have made this world a better place, if you made a difference with your transformed heart. Can you see your footprint when you look down from Heaven? Look close...real close...can you see it? Loves Like a Hurricane is the intricate true life story of a Catholic turned agnostic turned Christian through a wild web of odd encounters while running from a hurricane-like God. The journey carries you down many paths while God unknowingly whispers and shapes a young heart until he kicks the door wide open with a disaster of biblical proportion, changing everything. It's an authentic story everyone, at some point during the adventure, can say "Hey, I feel that same way," or "Wow, is that really what Jesus would do is that what I should do?" It's a hard hitting, feet to the fire tapestry that will make you laugh, cry and fore
