Hailed by The Cult's Ian Astbury as "the biggest thing this century" when they exploded into existence in 1986, Zodiac Mindwarp And The Love Reaction were the most outrageous rock band on the planet, sex- and drug-driven metal mayhem drenched in leather, fur, and psychedelic swastika chic. Zodiac and his cohorts-Cobalt Stargazer, Kid Chaos and Slam Thunderhide-were nothing than the Four Rockmen of the Apocalypse, "storming the gates of Heaven on wheels made in Hell." The Love Reaction were massively successful worldwide, and toured America, where they had a huge cult following, several times. Zodiac also wrote "Feed Your Frankenstein," a massive hit for Alice Cooper which was the main song in smash-hit movie "Wayne's World." Zodiac himself was incarnated by former comic illustrator and self-confessed acid casualty, Mark Manning. In FUCKED BY ROCK, Manning recalls astonishing, often shocking episodes and events from a decade of debauchery, derangement and brain-damaging excess. Illustrated throughout, FUCKED BY ROCK is the ultimate rock'n'roll testament, a scream from post-rock purgatory that will appeal not only to Zodiac Mindwarp's thousands of residual fans, but to anyone fascinated by the sex, drugs and mayhem of Rock n' Roll Babylon. " Book launched in Los Angeles with a signing and one-off live concert performance by Zodiac Mindwarp and the Love Reaction (now including Alex James from Britpop superstars "Blur"). " Book features an introduction by Bill Drummon of the KLF and K Foundation, whose own autobiography, "45," was recently published by Little Brown. Mark Manning was the founder/singer/leader of Zodiac

Mindwarp and the Love Reaction from 1986 onwards. He is now a full-time author whose published works include "Crucify" "Me Again" (Codex) and "Get Your Cock Out" (Attack! Books). He lives in London.
