Life is never what we intend it to be. Unexpected events occur and pull us away from what we plan. My life was headed down a path I was settling with. That was until I was told I had cancer.

But then he changed my life even more. Just when I accepted my fate, I found myself wanting him, wanting everything I never thought I had. Because of him, I found myself Fighting to Stay. *Author Note* Proceeds will be donated to the Susan G. Komen Foundation.
