Wanted dead or alive... The notorious outlaw Speed Caslin and his troupe of renegades are hot property amongst the bounty hunters either side of the Rio Grande.

Enter Nick Goodstight, former lawman, entrusted with the task of rescuing the ranger Henry Morris and his daughter Gwen, who have both been kidnapped by Caslin. Little does Nick know that this time, the job's personal when his path crosses with a notable figure from his past. When Nick is captured too, it does not seem as if anyone will make it out of Caslin's isolated hideout alive. As the action unfolds in the rocky valleys and canyons of the Potrillos, hope of rescue seems to become and likely. But just when all hope seems to be lost, Tinker Gant – Nick's dependable partner – soon joins in the pursuit, teaming up with the impressive Mexican bounty hunter Gaspar Bianco and his beguiling sister, Faquita. The job becomes even more complicated with the involvement of a double-crossing ranch owner and another bounty hunter by the name of Carl Bachman, a man with questionable morals, as ruth as Caslin himself. It's a battle of the wits and brawn as the bounty hunters try to outfox the outlaws, and vice versa in this classic Western escapade. Who will come out on top? Mason Macrae is a prolific author of Western literature, creating some of the most thrilling novels on the Wild West from the past century. Other titles from Mason Macrae include Distant Hills, Bounty Hunter and Thunder Valley.
