Isn't it amazing how God works? Imagine three women with three completely different backgrounds finding their way into each other's lives with a friendship that no one ever could have guessed. They grew up in three different states with lives as diverse as their personalities. It would almost seem impossible that their paths would cross in such a unique way. Suddenly, not only were they in the same state, but also the same church, building a friendship that will last throughout eternity.

Only God could have brought the three of them together. They write about all the experiences they have had in reaching people with the Gospel of Christ in this devotional.
