Enjoy Steampunk with a light satirical touch? Why not get to know VALEDICTORIA SCOTT ... A plucky lass of the forward-thinking 1870s ...

steam-powered transportation, intricate mechanical inventions, and amazing electrical devices abound in the land of Anglia and its mysterious northern neighbour, Scotia ... this brave new 19th Century world isn't dystopian, nor utopian ... just alternatopian! Now a professional secretarialist, Valedictoria begins her first office job with Barkingmede Ventures Ltd., Finest Tea Importers. At once, the work takes her to a remote Scotian island, where romance, jeopardy, and bearded men in scratchy, checked woolen cloth abound! Sub-oceanic adventure, men in kilts, daring escapes, rare imported teas, and satire! Second in the new series. This is an Advance Review Copy (ARC), and labelled as such. Not intended for retail sale or gifting. novella; 156pp; paperback.
